Includes an Exciting New Collaboration with Lingua Franca

PORTLAND, Ore. (March 20, 2023) – Chosen Family Wines has announced their Spring release of four new wines, including a 2021 Chosen x L'Angolo Pinot Noir, 2021 Chosen x Salty Goats Pinot Noir, 2022 Willamette Valley Rosé, and a 2021 Chardonnay from their newest collaboration with Lingua Franca. The Lingua Franca collaboration is the result of a partnership with highly acclaimed winemaker Thomas Savre.

"We are really excited to work with Thomas Savre, who I've been a huge fan of at Lingua Franca." Says Channing Frye, Founder of Chosen Family Wines. "I'm equally impressed with his prior tenure at Domaine Dujac and Domaine de la Romanée-Conti. As talented a winemaker as he is, he's an even better human being. So, we wanted to collaborate with him on a high-end Chardonnay that shows his amazing skill."

Chosen's spring wine releases are:

- 2021 Chosen x Lingua Franca Chardonnay ($95/bottle)
 - Chosen's newest collaboration with Lingua Franca Estate for their chardonnay comes as the result of the partnership with acclaimed winemaker Thomas Savre. Delicate floral and citrus aromas. On the palate, this wine is full of freshness and vitality, with bright acidity that carries the wine's length. A sophisticated wine that offers a perfect balance of fruit and acidity, with a rich, textural complexity that is enhanced by the flint notes. Members will have first access to bottles of the limited-production wine.
- 2021 Chosen x L'Angolo Pinot Noir ($75/bottle)
 - Made in partnership with L'Angolo Estate, this wine possesses classic Dundee Hills red fruit characteristics and is accompanied by notes of clove, wet moss and a beautiful freshness that is truly enjoyable.
- 2021 Chosen x Salty Goats Pinot Noir ($75/bottle)

- Salty Goats Wine Co. is quickly gathering cult status for beautiful and highly-coveted coastal Pinot Noirs that are vibrant, silky, and terroir-driven. Pure and elegant on the palate, this collaboration shows notes of rose petal, lavender, pine and spice, with a lingering and graceful finish.
